JUSTICE IS MUCH
TEMPERED WITH
JUDICIAL MERCY

Yesterday was an easy day in Judge De Bolt's court for those accused of violations of the laws of the Territory. There appeared to be no great desire on the part of the stern prosecuting officers to press any charges, and everybody got off without punishment, except one Japanese who had shown the bad taste to lay himself open to a charge of contempt of court.

Ah Ak and a bunch of his fellow countrymen, who were convicted in the district court of having been present at a gambling game, came before the judge on appeal. The case was not pressed—motion of A. M. Brown.

Ako, charged with selling poisonous drugs without a license, pleaded guilty. Sentence suspended for thirteen months, motion of A. M. Brown.

Ah Hoy, also charged with selling poisonous drugs without a license, pleaded guilty. Sentence suspended for thirteen months, motion of A. M. Brown.

Sato, charged with selling liquor without a license, pleaded guilty. Sentence suspended thirteen months, motion of A. M. Brown.

Ueno, a witness in one of the strike cases, who so far forgot himself as to be absent when he was wanted, came before the judge to answer to a charge of contempt of court. The judge found him guilty and fined him $20.
